

NEVADA JUDICIAL LEADERSHIP SUMMIT 2016

THE NEVADA JUDICIARY - MAINTAINING A HIGH STANDARD

APRIL 26 - 29, 2016
HARRAH'S LAKE TAHOE
LAKE TAHOE, NEVADA

Sponsored by the Supreme Court of Nevada, Administrative Office of the Courts

WELCOME

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to the 2016 Judicial Leadership Summit! As you can see, the Summit promises to be an exciting educational opportunity for all.

The Planning Committee, made up of representatives from the Nevada District Judges Association, the Nevada Judges of Limited Jurisdiction, and staff from the Administrative Office of the Courts, planned a substantive Summit based on the theme of The Nevada Judiciary - Maintaining a High Standard. Special thanks go out to Justice Nancy Saitta for her valued and extensive efforts to make this Summit a success.

Nevada's courts continue to be called upon to provide justice while facing challenges related to funding and increased population. Serious challenges to the role of the independent judiciary continue to be met by innovations forged by Nevada's dedicated judges utilizing the trust and relationships built with Nevada's voters and policy makers. The last year alone saw the creation of the Nevada Court of Appeals and a new judicial district.

I am pleased with the Nevada judiciary and every judicial district and court for maintaining the highest quality of service for the people of this state. The Summit is an opportunity for us to take stock of where we are and to chart a strong course for the future.

As you can see, the educational and social agenda includes some very interesting topics and affords opportunities for us to interact with our judicial colleagues from across the state.

Thank you for making the time to be a part of the Summit. Enjoy the conference!

Warm regards,

Ron D. Parraguirre
Chief Justice

Oakland, CA 94610
Telephone: (510) 325-1467
Email: Michael.Roosevelt@jud.ca.gov

Mr. Michael Roosevelt has undergraduate and graduate degrees from San Francisco State University. As a consultant, he has trained lawyers, judges, teachers, and school administrators about cultural differences and how to effectively work with people from different backgrounds. Mr. Roosevelt maintains that people learn best when they interact with each other and the instructor or facilitator.

Since 1998, Mr. Roosevelt has been a judicial educator for the Judicial Council of California, where he has specialized in designing programs for judicial officers, lawyers, court staff and administrators on diversity matters. In 1998, he developed and taught, Beyond Bias: Assuring Fairness in the Courts, a fairness and diversity curriculum for court staff. This three-hour training consisted of modules on culture, bias, stereotypes, perception, disability and sexual orientation. This comprehensive curriculum was designed and delivered to reach 15,000 court employees. To reach that audience, he delivered the curriculum and conducted train-the-trainers throughout the state of California. The curriculum has become the standard throughout the state for covering diversity topics.

Recently, Mr. Roosevelt designed a new program, Sexual Orientation Fairness in the California Court, which is intended to help court employees and judicial officers interact without bias against gays and lesbians who come into contact with, or work in, the court system. The above training includes a discussion of unconscious biases that impede interaction between people. While programs he designs deal with difficult and challenging subjects, he delivers programs in a manner that reduces resistance to the topic or subject. He has designed and taught a course on identifying bias in opinion writing for appellate attorneys.

Mr. Roosevelt is former chair of the National Association of Judicial Educators Diversity Committee and Director for the Western Region. He has served as staff to the Judicial Council Access and Fairness Advisory Committee and as a member of the State Bar's Pipeline Committee. A committee designed to increase diversity in the legal profession.

Over the last eight years, Mr. Roosevelt has conducted cultural simulation or experiential activities with professionals to help them identify implicit and unconscious bias. He has worked with primary and middle school teachers and administrators on diversity and cultural infusion. Mr. Roosevelt is at ease facilitating what may at times appear to be difficult or challenging subjects or topics in the workplace and society.
